Welcome to our next update on the fantastic building work that is taking place on our Ringinglow Road site.

Over the half term holiday, all of the flooring and roofing was removed from the building that will become our new EYFS and KS1 space. The architects and structural engineers are now finishing their plans ready for the next stage.

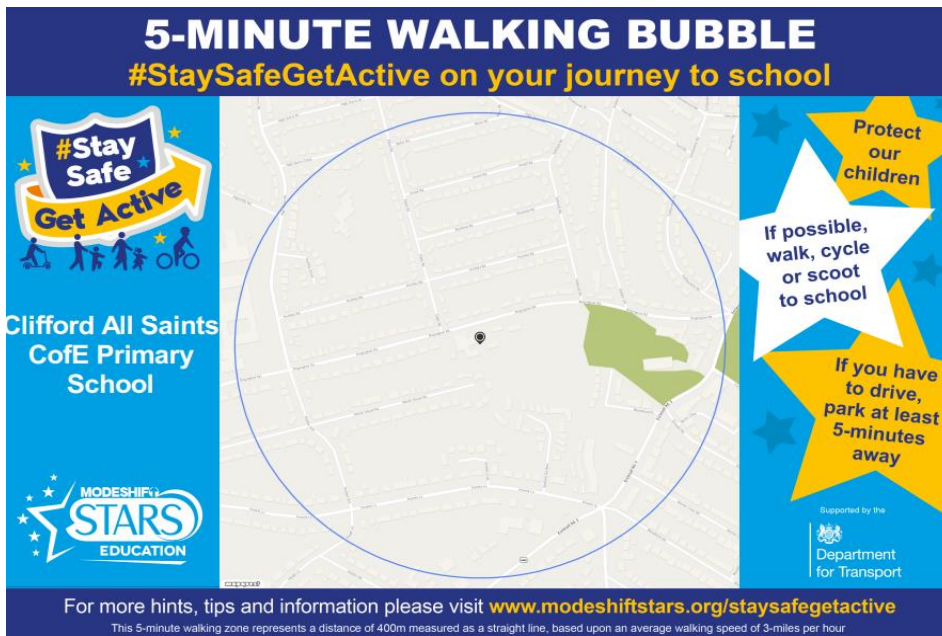

News from our Active Travel Team

In each building update, our roving reporters will share news and information about the building project. This time it's members of our Active Travel team's turn. They've been working closely with George from Sheffield City Council's Active Travel Team and will be sharing an assembly with parents soon.

'We went on a walk to find the right place for people to park and stride like the Prince of Wales pub- we could use it for parking and we now have permission to use it. We have also had fun making posters and planning an assembly'- Jonty and Charlie

'When George came into school, we talked about ways to get people to park stride. That's when people park 5-15 minutes away from the school and then they walk the rest of the way. The means that there are less cars near school which is better for people's health and it's more safe. Driving close to school could cause more traffic.' Matilda

'I enjoyed going on the walk around our local area. The man in the prince of Wales was friendly and said people could park there. I also liked planning the assembly so that we could share our ideas with everyone' Chidindu

At Clifford All Saints our Champions of Change are working hard behind the scenes. The next update we share will be about green space at Ringinglow

We're really pleased to share that the Prince of Wales pub on Ecclesall Road have said that parents are welcome to use their car park before drop off and before pick up from September.

We hope that this will encourage parents to park in the surrounding area, not right next to school.

Here is our Active Travel Team hard at work!
